Virtual Radiologic Names John Sodini as Vice President of Sales

MINNEAPOLIS, Feb 11, 2008 (PrimeNewswire via COMTEX News Network) -- Virtual Radiologic Corp. (Nasdaq:VRAD), a leading national provider of teleradiology services, today announced the appointment of John Sodini as Vice President of Sales.

Sodini brings a wealth of senior-level leadership experience in healthcare sales to Virtual Radiologic. Most recently, Sodini was Vice President of Healthcare Sales at Getinge USA, a manufacturer and distributor of infection control and surgical workplace products. At Getinge USA, Sodini oversaw the company's sales organization, which achieved double-digit sales growth in both of the company's primary profit and loss centers.

Before joining Getinge USA, Sodini held several leadership positions at Siemens Medical Solutions, including Vice President of General Imaging Sales for the company's Ultrasound Division; Regional Vice President for all modalities; and Central Zone Manager for the Ultrasound Division. He began his career in healthcare with U.S. Surgical Corp., where he held a number of sales leadership roles over his nine-year tenure with the company, and later served as Region Vice President for ADAC Laboratories, a developer of imaging technology.

"John Sodini is a welcome addition to Virtual Radiologic's high-performing sales team," said Rob Kill, Virtual Radiologic President and Chief Operating Officer. "Throughout his career, John has demonstrated consistent success at growing multi-million dollar profit centers, while providing invaluable management and leadership expertise. We're confident in John's ability to build upon Virtual Radiologic's impressive track record of strong organic growth, as evidenced by the company's 21 percent increase in facilities served during fiscal year 2007."

Sodini holds a bachelor's degree in business management and finance from Marshall University in Huntington, W.V.

In 2007, Virtual Radiologic expanded its customer base by 25 percent to 469 customers serving 804 medical facilities. Virtual Radiologic now serves 13 percent of hospitals in the United States.
