vRad Announces New Chief Financial Officer, John Way

Former UnitedHealth Group Executive Joins vRad Executive Team

MINNEAPOLIS, September 4, 2012—Virtual Radiologic (vRad), a technology-enabled national radiology practice and the largest telemedicine company in the world, today named John Way as Chief Financial Officer (CFO). Way will oversee all financial, treasury, accounting and planning/analysis functions at vRad. He previously served as CFO for three UnitedHealth Group businesses – Optum Collaborative Care, Secure-Horizons, and OptumHealth.

While at Optum Collaborative Care, Way was responsible for the financial functions, business development and acquisition integration, and was a key member of the leadership team that built this business driving significant growth for Optum, a $30B division of UnitedHealth Group.

“John has a long, successful history of managing the progressive growth of large scale healthcare businesses. We’re excited to bring his talent and leadership skills to our organization,” said George Morgan, vRad’s CEO. “With our leading national radiology practice and broad affiliations with local practices, our team is focused on optimizing the delivery of professional radiology services to improve healthcare quality and efficiency.”

About vRad
